- Reach & Rise group mentoring program was established to serve the needs of young people not being met by existing mental health services.
- To offer over-stressed families a resource to help meet their children's needs.
- To provide youth with positive, growth-inducing relationships with adults through mentoring.

WHAT TYPE OF YOUTH DOES THE GROUP MENTORING PROGRAM SERVE?

- Youth ages 8-15.
- Youth who could benefit from help with improving self-esteem, decision making, academic success, social skills, building and maintaining healthy peer and family relationships, and feeling a sense of belonging.
- Youth from a wide range of ethnic diversity and socio-economic backgrounds.
- Youth encompassing a variety of family backgrounds: intact families, single-parents, blended families, foster homes, and/or grandparent or other relative-headed families.

HOW ARE YOUTH REFERRED TO THE PROGRAM?

- From YMCA programs, staff, and communities.
- From school counselors, teachers and principals.
- From community programs, social services, counseling agencies, etc.
- From friends, family, and/or self-referrals.
- All referrals to Reach & Rise go through an application process and an initial telephone and/or face-to-face screening with the Program Director. This process helps determine whether or not each child is appropriate for the program. Those children assessed to have mental health problems not appropriate for our program will be referred elsewhere. The types of issues not likely to be handled by our mentors include: acute depression, homicidal or suicidal behavior, drug/alcohol dependence, and violent behavior.
